

“Source”, a unified field of consciousness and energy, where infinite particles (“monads”) provide form and structure to everything that exists.

The Higher Self is the part of the human being through which “life” is experienced and manifested by Source. It exists outside space and time, being dimensionless and timeless.

It is responsible for the coordination, guidance, help, assistance, etc., to its “incarnated” self, the “human personality” and the whole structure that provides a human being with the capabilities of being here evolving and experiencing life on Earth.

Spirit and Soul are two energy bodies that connect the HS to the human personality and the physical incarnation. They do allow knowledge, energy, consciousness and vibration to come down from Source to the physical level.

Everyone has a soul, but not everyone has a spirit, this one, only manifest and develops when the human being evolves and grows in energy, consciousness and vibration.

The higher bodies (emotional-buddhic, intellectual-atmic, and spiritual-monadic/logoic body) do develop as well according to the development of the human being. Only a few people on Earth do have them. They “manifest” and “grow” when the human being reaches a certain consciousness level.

Any human being has several lower bodies: etheric, emotional, mental and causal, at different development levels.

The HS is connected to all of them via the “Hara” line and the silver cord.

The physical body is the densest and most “solid” body we have.
